The population of Roseburg, according to the new city directory, soon to be issued, is 5323. The 1900 census gave Roseburg a population of 1690, which would make a gain in the past nine years of almost 215 per cent. That's growing some, but it cannot equal the remarkable progress made by Corvallis.

Hop picking will begin in this vicinity very shortly. The crop will be from fifteen to twenty-five per cent short, though the quality of the hops is par excellence. The shortage results from lesser acreage and the fact that hop vermin has done some work in yards not well cared for. J. C. Hammell, who has about 35 or 40 acres will begin picking the first of the month.

The change of program put on at the Palace last night is a very good one. "Espanita," by request repeated her globe rolling dance and Mr. Hoyt had several new tricks of slight-of-hand and magic which caught with the large houses. The motion pictures are all good but "The Birth and Adventures of a Fountain Pen" showing the whole process of manufacture from the time the raw material is received to the time the completed pens are placed on the market. This film is one of the most instructive ever seen here. Another good one is the "Magic Fountain Pen." This is a trick film and is exceedingly funny. The bill will be repeated tonight.

J. C. Hammell, who has between 35 and 40 acres of hops a few miles above this city, states that they are now in very good condition and that he will begin picking next week.

Walter Corbett, the genial dispenser of mail at the general delivery window in the Corvallis post-office has gone down on the Big Elk for a two weeks visit with his friends, Frank Thompson and Charles Overland. He expects to have a royal time while away.

Prof. E. R. Lake, of O. A. C. and Francis J. Heney, the noted prosecutor went to Salem yesterday to inspect some orchard property. Mr. Heney came out from Newport and was joined here by Professor Lake, the two going down to the Capital by way of Albany.

A party of twenty-five Corvallisites were guests of Mrs. S. Carver on a trip to the end of the C. & A. yesterday. They took along plenty of grub and had a delightful time in the dell up where the big timbers grow. All had a very pleasant time. The Editor, who comprised one of the party, finds himself disabled beyond ability to continue this write up farther at this time. It's awful to get plety to it when one isn't used to it.

Dr. C. H. Newth, the Philomath physician, is going East in a short time to take a post-graduate course at one of the prominent medical colleges. While away he will go on over to England for a visit to the scenes of his boyhood. He expects to be away about three months.

The regular August business meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Commercial Club will be held in the club rooms tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock. Mrs. E. R. Bryson will preside at this meeting. Business of great importance is to be transacted and a full attendance of this visiting committee is desired. As plans for fall and winter work will be discussed and perfected at this meeting it is hoped that every member will be present.

There is an almost unprecedented demand for houses to rent, with but few vacant residences in town to meet requirements. Five houses were rented yesterday to parties who have come here to live and agents say the call from strangers for homes is now continuous. The workmen in the new sawmill will require a dozen or more houses and it is expected that these will have to be built in order to accommodate the men and their families.

Chief Wells picked up an unlicensed itinerant peddler out in the suburbs this morning and when the offender was haled before Judge Denman there was quite a controversy as to whether he should be given five days employment on the streets or his stock confiscated in lieu of fine and an order issued for him to leave town. The latter course was finally decided upon and now the chief has a well assorted line of optical good which he is willing to dispose of at less than bargain prices, it being his desire to close out the stock before he goes off on that big hunt.

AERIAL RACE MEET.

Speed Contests Between Aeroplanes Planned For Saratoga.

LARGE PRIZES TO BE OFFERED

Famous Running Track to Become Arena For Aerial Competitions Next Season—Prominent Aeronauts Indorse the Project.

"We intend to move with the times," said George A. Farnham at a meeting recently held in Saratoga, N. Y., for the organization of the Saratoga Aeroplane and Dirigible Balloon Racing association, in moving the temporary organization of the body. An association to promote races and competitions in aviation and ballooning was formed, and a committee of forty, representing business and professional men of Saratoga, with Mr. Farnham as chairman and C. A. Marshall as secretary, was appointed to complete plans, which contemplate exhibitions in aerial navigation covering two months of next summer.

The place of the exhibition is to be the Saratoga race track, with the consent and promised aid of the officers of the racing association, the track to be turned over to the aeroplanists and balloonists in July and September and used for horse racing in August. As outlined in the discussion of plans by the organizers of the Aerial Racing club there will be contests of speed for aeroplanes and long, distance flights for dirigible balloons.

Cash Prizes Planned.

The feasibility of conducting such an exhibition has been under consideration for some time and in preparation for the organization of an association to carry out the plans. Mr. Farnham and others have been in correspondence with noted aeronauts and have received such assurances of support as to induce them to go on with their plan of organization. They propose to raise funds by subscription for the prizes, which, it was suggested, should range from $5,000 down to $2,000.

Mr. Farnham, who is proprietor of the American Adelphi hotel, said of the general plans of the organization: "The growth of public interest in aeronautics and the swift development of the aeroplane convince us that aeroplane racing and balloon flights very speedily will become a popular form of sport. We have had much correspondence with well known aeronauts and have been persuaded that a suitable place for aerial trials and exhibitions easily accessible to large numbers of people will be needed very soon.

"We believe the race track here will be the best place available, and for all novelty of the idea we think our plans are perfectly feasible and will meet with popular success. The place we have selected is admirably fitted to the purpose. About Saratoga we have a great expanse of open country, free of tall buildings and trees, already equipped with commodious stands for spectators, and in a country that presents few dangers for aerial navigators. There will be no danger of aeronauts being blown out to sea in a country so far inland as this.

Noted Aeronauts Expected to Compete.

"We shall delay making conditions for the trials until matters are more settled, and when announced the conditions will be governed by the state of approaching perfection which the aeroplane has reached. No actual race, as contest of speed, between two or more aeroplanes has ever been held, but the prospect for such a race is good, and we hope to have such a novelty here next summer. We have already had correspondence with a number of noted American and foreign aeronauts and aviators, and we expect to have some of them among our competitors as well as the foremost amateurs and experimenters."

The members of the committee are Spencer Trask, F. M. Waterbury, R. B. Johnston, J. P. McGirr, Julius H. Caryl, W. B. Gage, W. P. Butler, James M. Mingay, Julius Jackson, Dr. A. M. Thompson, H. M. Livingston, Dr. George F. Comstock, L. B. McKelvey, C. C. Van Deusen, Frederick Menges, C. B. Kilmer, E. D. Starbuck, W. D. Eddy, Howard Bullard, Dr. E. E. Strong, James E. Lester, H. L. Waterbury, Frank Howland, Harry Crocker, G. R. Salisbury, A. A. Marshall, P. F. Roohan, Dr. D. C. Moriarty, John H. Mobett, A. E. Curtis, E. B. Ashton, W. S. Robinson, W. C. Moriarty, J. D. McNulty, F. W. Garant, William B. Millman, H. W. Leonard, George A. Farnham, W. P. Tarrant and C. A. Marshall, secretary.

Flying Machine Minus Motor.

Professor H. L. Twining, head of the department of physics and electrical engineering at the Los Angeles Polytechnic high school, began aerial experiments the other day with an "ornithopter," a flying machine with twenty-seven foot wings designed to operate like those of an eagle. Professor Twining has been studying bird flight for twenty years and feels confident his ornithopter will demonstrate the correctness of the principles he has evolved. The machine has no motor. Instead Professor Twining has devised a system of levers to be operated with hands and feet.

French Fuel From Peat.

It is reported from France that it is proposed to manufacture fuel from peat under a new patented process in the peaty district on the borders of the Charente Inferieure and Deux Sevres departments. The fuel produced experimentally is said to be of good quality.
